

Studio in Oriental Garden

A design studio located in traditional Chinese Garden House welcomes the architectural and landscape students from all over the world to share their design inspirations in historical environment with cultural and natural landscape.

A special working environment would inspire any creative idea in modern and tradition, artificial and natural, eastern and western, history and future...

Studio in Oriental Garden

The studio site is located in scenic environment, 65km from metropolitan Shanghai in China.

The studio time schedule and period could be flexible in full year according to requirements.

One to three studios could be set at the same time, each with 10 to 20 students.

Basic workshop equipment is provided.

Affordable hospitality is located in 15 minutes walking distance to the studio.

Strict protection rules for the traditional garden house and area must be followed.

Design studio team from one school could set its short or long term studio courses in the garden house. Each studio hosts the team from the same school. Each studio team could work on any project or course in its own education objectives.

Public communications, exhibitions, architectural tours and project competition chances might be provided for the studio teams by the owner.

All the faculties and students in architectural and landscape schools are welcome to contact and join the studio with poetic traditional oriental garden house environment.

